Status	Finished
Started	Wednesday, 14 October 2026, 6:05 PM
Completed	Wednesday, 14 October 2026, 6:10 PM
Duration	5 mins 19 secs

Question 1

Complete

In a manufacturing company all nonmanufacturing costs are considered as period costs.

- True
- False

Question 2

Complete

Management accounting is concerned with providing financial and nonfinancial information to internal stakeholders.

- True
- False

Question 3

Complete

Product costs are recorded as assets (inventory) in the balance sheet when they are incurred.

- True
- False

Question 4

Complete

Management accounting provides reports that are prepared are prepared periodically.

- True
- False

Question 5

Complete

Both product costs and period costs are eventually classified as expenses.

- True
- False

Question 6

Complete

Cost accounting provides information required for both financial accounting and management accounting professionals.

- True
- False

Question 7

Complete

Classifying costs according to type of cost element includes two elements, direct cost and indirect cost.

- True
- False

Question 8

Complete

Manufacturing costs equal the sum of prime cost and conventional cost.

- True
- False

Question 9

Complete

Cost allocation is a basis upon which indirect costs are allocated to the different cost objects.

- True
- False

Question 10

Complete

The method used to assign direct costs to a specific cost object is described as cost allocation.

- True
- False